

Next Level Learning

Next Level Learning provides in-school study engagement workshops (full-day and half-day) all over Ireland. We also provide seminars for both teachers and parents.

Based in principals of Cognitive Psychology, we teach students how to approach their school work in the most effective way possible. The ultimate goal of our seminars is to dramatically increase the productivity of each student.

"I wasn't totally sure about what to expect from the talk. Within the first few minutes the speaker had my attention. This was definitely something different! Having attended the talk, I can honestly say I feel more confident and optimistic about my course work. It just seems a lot more doable now."

Look familiar? Studies show that the biggest obstacle to student achievement is the inability to engage with study consistently.

Student success: Content of the workshops...

During our workshops, we teach students why they may be struggling to engage with their academic work consistently. We cover topics such as...

- The top 5 factors in becoming an effective studier.
- How to dramatically increase the amount of study they can do.
- How to foster a great mental attitude towards study.
- How to overcome negative emotions that lead to feeling overwhelmed and unmotivated.
- Daily cognitive practices that dramatically increase productivity.
- Why students procrastinate in study.
- The effects of 'passive procrastination'.
- How to use 'active procrastination'.
- How to strike a perfect work/play balance.
- How to plan and schedule study sessions successfully.
- How to increase focus on study WITHOUT a sense of deprivation.
- How to truly develop self-respect in your study.

A common problem

The fact that students experience difficulty engaging with study is no secret. The extent of this issue is less widely understood however...

How we can help...

Next Level Learning teaches students highly effective strategies for overcoming the common psychological blocks that keep them from engaging with study. We train students how to think about and perceive study work differently. From here, positive, self-empowering behaviour falls into place naturally.

Workshops for all students...

Workshops cater for all years, 1st through 6th. Workshops are highly interactive, and students concerns and specific questions are addressed throughout.

Students are given a comprehensive package of bonus materials to help them apply what they've learned after the workshop and on-line follow up coaching is also provided.

Post workshop, students are invited to a Facebook support page where they can ask questions about their study problems and receive immediate feedback.

Support materials...

All students who attend a workshop are given a copy of the Next Level Learning eBook, 'The Study Virus'. The book serves as a great resource for students implementing the ideas going forward and outlines all strategies covered in the workshop.

Teachers & Parents...

Workshops for teachers focus on the research behind academic procrastination in young learners. The extent of the problem, as well as effective solutions are outlined. Talks for parents focus on ways to keep a young student focused.

Talks for parents also outline effective ways to communicate with a young student to help keep them motivated and on-track.

Contact...

Importantly, we work with each school to deliver workshops tailored specifically to their own unique needs.

Contact workshop leader Dr. David Maloney for more information on hosting Next Level Learning in your school.

The idea of consequences was great. I'm going to try it. Also the story was a great idea. It was great to get new ideas and ways to study that I hadn't considered or even thought of before. Cheers. Daniel (Leaving Cert. student).
